OLIGO PROFESSIONNEL WAVES...

- AMMONIA AND THIO FREE
- CAN COLOUR THE SAME DAY

With the Oligo Professionnel waves, you can create bouncy natural looking curls on all hair types. With their low alkalinity levels, (pH 7.2 to 7.4), these waves are in better harmony with the hair and the scalp.

ALKA

is an alkaline wave specially formulated for natural and fine hair. The balanced formula protects the polypeptide bonds during the process.

OLIOL012

EXO

is a self-heating wave specially formulated for resistant grey and white hair. The carefully selected ingredients are balanced to soften the bonds of difficult to curl hair types without damaging their structure.

OLIOL013

is an acidic wave specially formulated for colour-treated and highlighted hair up to 50%. The activator is composed of a complex blend which protects hair that is very vulnerable due to previous chemical services.

OLIOL014

is a neutral texturizer formulated for resistant, grey, white, natural and fine hair. Like pure water, it has a pH of 7.0. This attribute makes the OH7 gentler on the scalp helps to maintain the integrity of the hair.

OLIOL015

is a pure acid texturizer formulated for colour-treated and highlighted hair up to 80% . This formula is the perfect tool for obtaining all of the latest creative styles. Unique in its category with a pH of 6.0, OH6 restructures the hair without causing any damage. Furthermore, its pH is similar to those of most conditioning products.
Finally a product that can be used on hair that is up to 80% highlighted!

WHAT IS HEMP?
Hemp is a part of the cannabis sativa family, and has been sought out for its seed and fiber production. However, new research has found that cannabinoids, such as cannabidiol (CBD), offer many promising impacts on overall health.
Hemp produces trichomes, which are a resin-like substance where CBD is produced and stored. Just like plants produce cannabinoids, we also produce our own cannabinoids. Cannabinoids help to regulate naturally occurring systems in our bodies. When our bodies are not functioning properly the endocannabinoid system may not be functioning properly and can lead to problems. Our endocannabinoid system can be supported by introducing plants cannabinoids such as CBD.

en Vogue THE GEL COMPANY

EN VOGUE NAIL PRODUCTS ARE "9 FREE"

Why should this be important in choosing nail products? We will give you 9 good reasons...

1. Toluene is a liquid solvent that smells like paint thinner. You can be exposed to toluene by breathing it in or getting it on your skin, causing skin irritation.

2. Dibutyl Phthalate is a commonly used plasticizer and has been linked to cancer.

3. Formaldehyde is a commonly used chemical preservative. Its vapors can be irritating and can trigger asthma. It is also a known human carcinogen, a factor directly involved in causing cancer.

4. Formaldehyde Resin is a derivative of Formaldehyde, mainly used in the production of coatings and adhesives. It is not as toxic as Formaldehyde but can be an allergen.

5. Camphor, this chemical acts as a cover on your nails, depriving them of nutrients and causing yellow staining on your nails.

6. Xylene is irritating to the skin, eyes, and respiratory tract. It can cause systemic toxicity by ingestion or inhalation.

7. TPHP is a chemical used in plastics to improve flexibility. A handful of animal studies have suggested that it could be an endocrine disrupter which affects your hormones.

8. Parabens, these are preservatives that have gotten a bad rep for their estrogen-mimicking effects, which past research has suggested may trigger major health concerns like hormonal problems.

9. Ethyl Tosylamide is a plasticizer that helps transform polish from drippy to dry in minutes. This ingredient has already been barred from personal care products in Europe due to its antibiotic properties and concern over antibiotic resistance.

CanRad is pleased to partner with The Shoebox Project for Women, a national registered charity that provides gifts, essentials and messages of solidarity to women impacted by homelessness across Canada. They are seeking financial and in-kind donations that can be utilized by volunteers in all provinces to support local women's shelters and community agencies. Items they most need are full-sized shampoo/conditioner, soap, deodorant, basic hair and beauty products, and small accessories. Their operations have been modified and scaled back this year due to COVID, however they hope to be providing their gift-filled Shoeboxes to over 60,000 women in Canada by the holiday season

Please contact info@shoeboxproject.com if you'd like to support this exciting initiative in 2021!
